BODY VANISHES FROM TRACKS AS POLICE APPEAR

Strange circumstances that point to robbery and murder, in which the victim was spirited away after being laid upon a railroad track and discovered, confront the Desplaines street police with a mystery.

At 7 o'clock last night Wynn McCamant, yardmaster for the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road, came upon the body of a man lying on the tracks at Peoria street about 200 feet north of Carroll avenue.

Men Littering Near.
One hundred feet south of where the body lay, McCamant saw three men standing in the shadow of a building.

FRANCE JOINS POWERS FOR RUSSIAN PEACE

Paris, Feb. 22.—Premier Millerand leaves France today for London. Negotiations there next week are expected to result in important decisions regarding Russia.

Indications here on the eve of M. Millerand's departure were that the French will withdraw from the policy of refusing absolutely to deal with the bolsheviks.

THE CHANGING WORLD

Nice Maid Disappears with $8,000

The servant problem—Isn't it awful? There's Mrs. Walter A. Scott, now, she lives, you know, at 1411 North State street and she advertised for a maid. Well, Saturday morning a nice looking girl in nurse costume applied.

Mrs. Scott was delighted and gave the girl a job and went down to the loop.

And—would you believe it?—when she got home she hardly recognized the place. It looked so vacant. The antique table was gone. The antique china was gone. The linen and the silverware were gone.

ARMED FORCE TO DESCEND ON MINING COUNTY

Open defiance of the power of the federal authorities to enforce prohibition in the upper peninsula of Michigan has developed in the thickly populated mining district of Iron county.

So serious is the situation as outlined by Leo J. Grove, supervising prohibition agent for the upper peninsula, upon his arrival in Chicago yesterday that Maj. A. W. Dalrymple, prohibition chief of the central division, immediately wired Assistant Prohibition Director Gaylord at Washington for full authority to lead an armed force to quell the "revolt."

Through the office of Attorney General Palmer he also sought to expedite the issuance of warrants for the arrest of State's Attorney M. S. McDonough of Iron county, the chief and captain of police at Iron River, Mich., and three deputy sheriffs, as well as three citizens in whose possession spirituous liquors were found.

At the same time he got into telephonic and telegraphic communication with Marquette, Mich., and made arrangements by which his force of forty agents will be reinforced by an equal number of the state constabulary as a phase of his plans to proceed at once against the open violators of the law.

Enforce Law—Palmer.
Attorney General Palmer passed through Chicago last night and remained at the Blackstone hotel all evening, expecting a conference with Maj. Dalrymple, but the latter failed to appear. It was reported Dalrymple had taken the 9 o'clock train for the "scene of action."

JEWISH EDITOR, AID AND POET ARE SLAIN IN HUNGARY

Socialists Vanish; 3 Bodies Found in River.

BUDAPEST, Feb. 20.—[By the Associated Press.]—The murder of the Jewish editor, Somozyi, of the newspaper Nepzava, and two of his employees, a subeditor, and a poet named Adelbert Vasco, has created a sensation here. The bodies were found in the Danube river weighted with rocks. No clew has yet been obtained.

It appears that the three men were seized and carried off in an automobile, after which they were blackjacked and the bodies thrown into the river. Regret at the murders has been expressed by the national assembly. Socialist organizations are disbanding, fearing that a similar fate will be dealt out to their leaders by the secret terrorist societies. The government has inaugurated a determined effort to control the situation.

VICTIM OF ROYALISTS

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.] [By Special Cable.] [Copyright: 1920: By the Tribune Company.] BUDAPEST, Feb. 20, via Paris, Feb. 22.—The arrest and later the murder of Bela Somozyi, editor of the Socialist paper Nepzava, has caused a sensation, reaching throughout the nations of the former dual monarchy. That it was a political scheme executed by Hungary's monarchist officers is undoubted; but recently Somozyi published attacks on the monarchists, resulting in War Minister Friederich threatening his arrest a few days ago, while White army officers and soldiers smashed up the newspaper's offices.

The arrest in one of a series of political assassinations and atrocities which members of Admiral Horthy's White army are committing against the Socialists and every one else disagreeing with the monarchial regency.

Beaten for Jew.

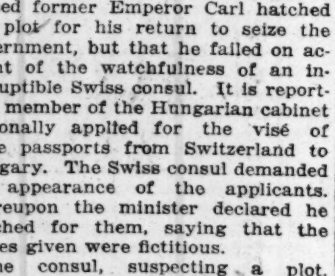

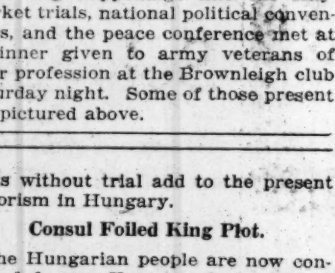

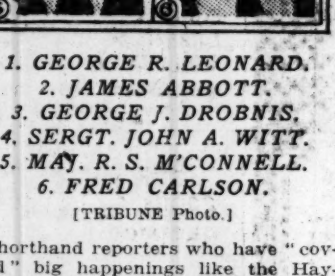

Another episode stirring up the people was an attack on Count Esterhazy, one of the most prominent monarchial figures. As Esterhazy came out of his club the other evening royalist officers in a passing automobile mistook him for a Jew, called him a bolshevik, and beat him so severely it was necessary for him to remain in a hospital for several days.

There are many disappearances, assaults, and robberies nightly laid to the White army. When an American official recently called upon Minister Friederich to curb its activities he issued an order, which was posted over the town, but actually it accomplished nothing to insure the safety of the monarch's opponents.

Consul Foiled King Plot.

The Hungarian people are now convinced former Emperor Carl hatched the plot for his return to seize the government, but that he failed on account of the watchfulness of an incorruptible Swiss consul. It is reported a member of the Hungarian cabinet personally applied for the visa of three passports from Switzerland to Hungary. The Swiss consul demanded the appearance of the applicants. Thereupon the minister declared he vouched for them, saying that the names given were fictitious.

The consul, suspecting a plot, asked for photographs, and recognized former Emperor Carl.

ROW STARTS IN 'FRIENDS OF IRISH FREEDOM' RANKS

De Valera and U. S. Aids War Over Policy.

(By a Staff Correspondent.) Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—[Special.]—A row has started in the ranks of the American "Friends of Irish Freedom" over the advocacy by "President" De Valera of the "Irish republic" of the application to Ireland of the principle of the Platt amendment governing the relations of the United States and Cuba.

As soon as De Valera came out with this proposal he was assailed by John Devoy in the Gaelic American and charged with "hauling down the Irish flag." Justice Cohan of the New York Supreme court lined up with Devoy and the word went forth to repudiate De Valera.

De Valera is standing pat in the belief that Cohan and Devoy represent only a small faction. With reference to the charge made against him, De Valera sent the following cablegram today to Arthur Griffith, "acting president of the Irish republic," care of the lord mayor of Dublin: "The declarations of allegiance to the republic made by the newly elected municipal councils and executives, when known to the American public and their significance realized, will be of vast assistance to us in our campaign for recognition. Now, a word to the wise is enough.

"The Irish people are too wise to allow themselves to be disturbed by misrepresentations, no matter how adroit, no matter how cunning, no matter whence they may emanate. This is not the time to sidetrack our advance into the bypaths of a profitless discussion based on a series of ifs. My attitude is, of course, the same as ever. All is well."

Gets 3 Years for Threat Against Viscount French

DUBLIN, Feb. 22.—Robert Barton, Sinn Fein member of parliament for East Wiltshire, who was convicted Feb. 12 on a charge that at Shillelagh last year he made threats against Viscount French, lord lieutenant of Ireland, and Frank Brooke, a member of the lord lieutenant's advisory council, has been sentenced to three years' penal servitude.

Panama Still Is Neutral; Governor Bars Irish Dance

PANAMA, Feb. 21.—[Delayed.]—Gov. Harding tonight prohibited the Friends of Irish Freedom from holding a dance at the government Hotel Tivoli, on the ground that funds resulting from it would further the cause of the "Irish republic," thus converting a social into a political event.

'GOVERNMENT IS ABJECT FAILURE,' PASTORAL SAYS

BELFAST, Feb. 22.—In his pastoral letter read today in all catholic churches in the archdiocese of Cashel Archbishop Harty says:

"We are living under a government which has proved itself an abject failure. Neither based on the consent of the nation, nor working for the good of the community as a whole, it has trampled on the will of the people and upheld the ascendancy of the pampered minority. History tells us that where such a system reigns the laws of God are set aside, coercion and crime go hand in hand, and peaceful citizenship are made the victims of the vicious circle."

*Your Fine Clothes Cannot Last
If You Wash Them With Soaps Containing Bleaching
Alkalies, Free Caustics and Other Adulterants*

Ordinary wear and water do the least injury to clothes—even delicate, dainty fabrics.

The discoloration and decay of clothes is due almost entirely to the destructive elements contained in many cheap soaps.

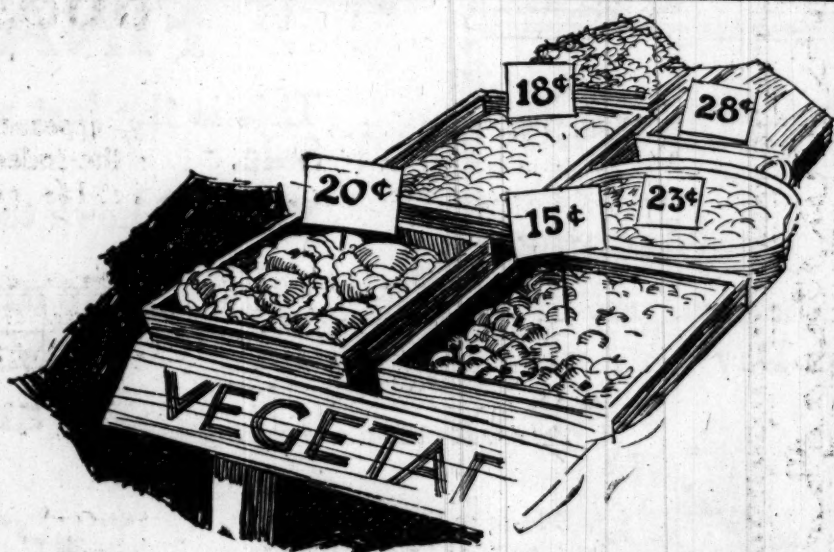

The chemicals in these soaps do not wash—they eat the dirt right out of the clothes and destroy the fabric doing it.

KIRK'S AMERICAN FAMILY SOAP

Has been the most popular laundry soap for over three generations, because it contains nothing but the purest animal fats and vegetable oils. It is a concentrated soap of the purest kind with no free caustics or fillers of any kind. It is perfectly safe and even satisfying to use on the face, hands or hair. Naturally, it does not injure the most delicate clothes. The intensive rubbing you have to do with impure, cheap soaps, is unnecessary, for, in warm or cold water it washes them quickly and thoroughly clean, leaving them lily white and sweet smelling. Perfect for use in washing machines.

300 RALLIES IN DAY WARM UP CITY CAMPAIGN

Aldermanic Scraps Reach the Boiling Point.

Three hundred Sunday afternoon rallies held all over town yesterday brought Chicago's first nonpartisan aldermanic campaign to a somewhat spectacular close. The precinct workers will get their final orders tonight, and tomorrow, between the hours of 6 and 8 p. m., men and women voters will go to the polls.

The west side wards furnished most of yesterday's fireworks. Early churchgoers saw scores of automobiles romping hither and thither, all dolled up with the banners and last minute appeals of rival candidates.

The Eighteenth ward, just across the river, stirred and spluttered all day long with the Grogan-Kavanagh contest. This will be one of the most turbulent of the day, and the election will be a close one.

Women Join Battle.

The Twenty-first ward fight, which has been the most intense, did not start until Sunday afternoon. The voters' nonpartisan organization that is supporting Ald. Earl J. Walker for reelection was busy. At the home of Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank a battery of women went into action at a specially arranged switchboard, and over the phone spread hundreds of Twenty-first ward votes to be sure to vote Tuesday and to vote for Walker.

In the Twentieth ward Thomas J. O'Grady claimed to have the edge on Ald. William R. O'Toole.

"Nothing to it," was the word from the O'Grady camp. "O'Grady won't know this is a war." This ward will be fiercely contested tomorrow, according to all reports.

Two Men Fight in Thirty-first.

Ald. Terence F. Moran, in the Thirty-first, had reports from all of his precinct captains that were declared satisfactory. This is a two-man fight and either Ald. Moran or David L. Swanson, who is recommended by the alderman by the Municipal Voters league, will be a winner tomorrow.

Each of the four opponents of Ald. Lyle in the Thirty-second was claiming yesterday that Lyle cannot win and that a second election is a surety.

Ald. John Toman's organization in the Thirty-fourth put in its last minute work and wound up the campaign, expressing confidence that Toman will defeat his single opponent, George E. Mortenson.

Most of the ten candidates who have no opposition on the official ballots are taking no chances. Quietly conducted activities of the Labor party managers in some wards, and possible gunshots from factional opponents in other hallways have put the unopposed on their toes, and they will be busy tomorrow getting out enough of a vote to keep them free from danger. This is particularly true in the Twenty-third ward, where Ald. Steffen has no opponent on the election ballots.

Boosters for the development of Chicago along the lines of the Chicago Plan campaign have organized independently to rally a heavy vote in the south side wards for all of the bond propositions of the South Park district; necessary to consummate the lake front improvement from Twelfth street to Jackson park.

Unless there is a last minute fight against the bond issues in some of the territory west of State street, the supporters of the issues seem confident the voters will register hearty approval.

POLITICAL NOTES

Gov. Lowden returned to Chicago last night from a four day speaking trip in South Dakota. The governor expressed himself as well satisfied with the results of the expedition. C. J. Morris of Sioux Falls, chairman of the Minnehaha County Lowden club, at Lowden headquarters, said Gov. Lowden's speeches will swing the state for him at the direct primaries, March 23.

"Lowden addressed out of the greatest political gatherings ever held in Sioux Falls," Mr. Morris said. "He is sure to sweep that part of the state."

Gen. Leonard Wood put in a busy day at Omaha. He and Mrs. Wood attended service at the Episcopal church. In the afternoon, at Central high school, Gen. Wood spoke at a presentation of certificates to next of kin of Omaha soldiers who died in the war. In the evening he spoke at the First Presbyterian church. He will be in Lincoln today, and tomorrow enters South Dakota with a speech at Yankton.

The first opportunity for Chicagoans to hear Edwin T. Meredith, secretary of agriculture, since his appointment to the cabinet will come tomorrow, when he speaks at a special luncheon at noon at Hotel La Salle, given by the Association of Commerce. Mr. Meredith's subject will be "An Issue of the Times."

Congressman Frank L. Smith, chairman of the Illinois Republican state committee, is expected to arrive in Chicago today.

Campaign headquarters for Congressman William B. McKinley, candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator from Illinois, will be opened this morning in rooms on the sixth floor of the Great Northern hotel. William G. Edens, general manager of the state campaign, will be in charge.

Dr. F. D. McNaughton, mayor of Calumet, was appointed manager of the Wood campaign in the copper country of Michigan, according to an announcement last night at Wood headquarters.

Newton Jenkins, an attorney who served in France as a lieutenant with the marines and who is a candidate for alderman from the Twenty-seventh ward, expects to lead the field of six candidates tomorrow and be elected, according to R. M. Spears, his manager. Spears declared last night that a canvass of the ward shows that Jenkins will receive a majority of votes.

Harding Avoids Michigan Race Against Lowden

Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—[Special.]—Senator Warren G. Harding will not seek delegates in Michigan in his fight for the Republican presidential nomination.

This decision is regarded here as a concession to the Lowden forces who are making a fight in Michigan, and where the managers of Senator Hiram W. Johnson also are making a strong bid for delegates.

WILSON TO PRESS PACT IF ALLIES YIELD ON FIUME

Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—[Special.]—If the allies yield to President Wilson in the Fiume controversy and thereby make it unnecessary for him to consider seriously withdrawal of the treaty from the senate, the president intends to make a final effort to obtain ratification of the covenant.

The president's note to the allies rejecting their reasons for ignoring him in the latest Adriatic settlement had not been dispatched tonight, but the state department thought it would go forward tomorrow.

So convinced are some of the Democratic leaders the Lodge reservations must be accepted if the treaty is to be ratified at all that Senator Simmons urged Senator Hitchcock to call a Democratic caucus to consider a plan for immediate approval of the treaty and the league of nations covenant.

"WET" PLANK FOR DEMOCRATS PLAN OF GOV. EDWARDS

Atlantic City, N. J., Feb. 22.—Gov. Edwards of New Jersey announced today his intention of going to the national Democratic convention at San Francisco prepared to fight for an anti-prohibition plank in the party platform. He criticized William Jennings Bryan, whom he designated "a man without a state," and declared he had no fear that Mr. Bryan will seriously injure the party, should the convention take an anti-prohibition stand.

Gov. Edwards said he was convinced that both parties must face the prohibition issue as the liveliest that will come before the national conventions. "I don't care who is the party's candidate," the governor said.

Lowden Asked for Stand on Universal Training

Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—Representative Gould sent to Gov. Lowden of Illinois today a telegram asking him to define his position towards universal military training.

BEAT MULCAHY, M. V. L. APPEAL TO FIFTH WARD

The Municipal Voters' league last night issued a special bulletin on the Fifth ward aldermanic situation, urging the election of Thomas A. Doyle and the defeat of Ald. Robert J. Mulcahy. The bulletin in part follows:

"To the Voters of the Fifth Ward: Chicago today is honeycombed with bossism. One of the nastiest little pieces of bossism in Chicago and one of the most gallant fights against it is in the Fifth ward aldermanic contest. There one man is fighting an organization as autocratic in disposition as any man and as intolerant of independent judgment."

"Two years ago Ald. Thomas A. Doyle was finishing his second term in the city council, the best alderman this ward ever had. For some reason 'the organization' decided Representative Robert J. Mulcahy should be alderman in Doyle's place although in three terms at Springfield Mr. Mulcahy had made an unsatisfactory record."

"This high-handed bit of bossism brought many expressions of anger from the citizens, and 2,500 of them registered their disapproval in the primary at which Mr. Mulcahy was forced upon the Democrats by the organization."

"But now we have nonpartisan aldermanic elections. The bosses must go. Doyle is again a candidate for alderman. His opponent is the same Mulcahy, who meantime has made a bad record in the council."

A LITTLE CHILD LEADS PAIR TO PATHS OF PEACE

"I Love Both" Saves Her Mamma from Arrest.

Six year old Anita Krubeech, blue-eyed and golden-haired, sitting between her father and mother in the office of First Deputy Superintendent of Police Alcock, hesitated not at all in answering the question. Why should she? It was a very simple question—

"Which do you love the more, your mamma or your papa?"

"Why, I love them both just the same."

Certainly. How was Anita to know that mothers and fathers don't always love one another, and that sometimes they don't live together any more, as, for instance, in this particular case?

The Marriage and Separation.

Miss Elizabeth Mickelberry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Mickelberry of 5318 Cornell avenue, became the bride in 1911 of John Krubeech, 1029 Wellington street. Mr. Mickelberry has since died. They quarreled, separated. Three years ago he obtained a divorce. The judge ruled Anita should live alternately with the father and the mother—six months of the year with each.

Mrs. Krubeech took an apartment at 1195 East Forty-seventh street. On Feb. 2 the husband appeared before Judge John P. McGorty and asked that he be awarded permanent custody of Anita. On the same morning Anita disappeared. So did Mrs. Krubeech. The mother had spirited her away and had gone to Los Angeles.

Wife Thinks: "Come Down."

But all this was not known until yesterday when the telephone at Krubeech's home rang. It was Mrs. Krubeech. She had tired of Los Angeles. "John," she said, "I'm back. Do you want to see the baby?"

"Sure," said John.

"Come down to the Auditorium hotel."

John went. But not before he had notified the police and had been provided with an escort in the persons of Detective Sergeants Michael Grady and Daniel Mullane of the first deputy's office. Mrs. Krubeech was waiting.

"I want her arrested for contempt of court," he said.

Like a Story Book Story.

They took her to the first deputy's office and there the detectives sought to effect a reconciliation. Finally they appealed to Anita, who had been gazing in open-eyed wonder at the drama she couldn't comprehend.

"I love them both," she repeated, and climbed down from her chair. She walked over to her father and took his hand. He looked down at her fondly. She led him over to her mother and took her hand.

"Well," resumed the detective, turning to the father. "Do you still want Mrs. Krubeech arrested for contempt of court?"

"No. Can I, turning to the mother, have Anita until Tuesday?"

"That is when the case is to be reopened before Judge McGorty."

"Yes, John."

"Let's go home and play," interrupted Anita.

They left the office, each led by the child.

WAR REPUTATION MAKES U. S. SAFE, BENSON ASSERTS

Admiral Tells K. of C. of Navy Powers.

"America is safe from invasion. The work of the army and navy in the recent war has convinced the world that a foreign foe cannot trespass on our shores."

This was the message given last night by Admiral William S. Benson, U. S. N., retired, present head of the shipping board. He was the chief guest at the exemplification at the Hotel La Salle of the fourth degree of the Knights of Columbus before 1,500 members.

"The navy was criticized during the war," Admiral Benson said, "because some people did not know its mission. They figured that because it did not lose thousands of men and a score of ships it was a failure."

Accomplished Mission.

"The navy commendably did the work it was called upon to do. Its mission was to strengthen the naval forces of the allies and to transport the man power and munitions of America to the battlefields. It accomplished its purpose."

He stated that the navy was not a fad or fashion, or an ornament featured by the United States because other nations had navies, but a national necessity in war and peace and a vital asset in the interests of commerce.

"If class legislation continues to gain headway," he said, "the government of our own country will be imperiled."

In a statement made to reporters earlier in the day the admiral said:

"In point of size our navy must equal that of any navy in the world and from a standpoint of efficiency must be even better."

Judge Robert E. Crowe, chief justice of the criminal court, who "rode the goat," said that the Catholic church stands firm for all time against divorce, free love, birth control and bolshevism.

Other Speakers.

Other speakers were John A. McCormick, master of the fourth degree; John F. Martin, supreme director; and James J. McGraw, supreme director.

John J. Crowley, navigator of the La Salle assembly, acted as toastmaster.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work of calomel without its harmful effects. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects. All the benefits of nasty, sickening, gripping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without gripping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint with the attendant bad breath.

The Chippendale Design

The JOHN M. SMYTH Store presents the second of its contributions to a "Period Furniture" series which will explain in simple form the origin of the different designs and periods of Furniture that are now popular.

We are accustomed to speak of a piece of Furniture as a "Chippendale" design with scant thought of its origin.

A little research reveals the fact that one Thomas Chippendale, a Cabinet-maker, came to England during the reign of George I and soon became responsible for the designs that have carried into the present generation and which bear his name.

He was born in 1708 and died in 1779; a son of the same name gained fame as a carver and joiner. The elder Chippendale published a book, "The Gentleman and Cabinet Maker's Director," which was known as the first Furniture Catalog and which sold for Sixteen Dollars a copy. It was issued under the patronage of a very distinguished list of subscribers who were members of the then Nobility.

Chippendale is responsible for the square-backed chair and this aspect soon became a feature of en suite creations of his design; the square back soon developed into the ribbon back which is so typical of the design as now shown. These features, together with the elaborate decoration which he affected, are "Chippendale" characteristics.

The suite here shown is of English Chippendale design; there are three types of Chippendale, the English, the French and the Chinese. The two latter named designs will be shown in subsequent numbers of the series.

WOMAN FINDS MAN HACKED TO DEATH WITH AX

Hatchet Hidden in Bed of Neighbor.

The Marie Caponigro, who occupies the first floor at 218 West Twenty-ninth place, heard a commotion over the roof of the two-story building at 9 o'clock Saturday afternoon. She paid no attention to the noise and did not investigate. At 11 o'clock yesterday afternoon, however, as she was passing Michael's rooms, she noticed the light still burning. She opened the door and entered the room. Michael's body lay on the floor. His head, wrapped in an old coat, had been buried in his clothes. A money belt which he wore had been ripped open and the money was scattered over the back of a chair. Two hands had been broken open and a knife case ripped open with a knife.

NICHOLAS MIKULICH.

Woman Screams; Flees.

Mrs. Caponigro fled screaming, and neighbors notified the Deering street police. Two patrol wagons filled with detectives and policemen arrived. While the examination was being made Detective Sergeants Edward Mitchell and Thomas Ferriter, standing in the crowd outside, saw William Tullio, a heavy vendor, peering out of a window on the second floor. Tullio's knees shook as he let them in. He professed ignorance of the reason for the presence of the police. When told a murder had been committed in the rear rooms he blurted:

Find Hatchet in Bed.

"I know you'd pinch me for this," he said. Mary, laughing at the detective, said she could not speak English and kept silent. A search of the room was made. Some old rags and a small, apparently blood stained, were found. Then the detectives turned to bed. Buried down in the middle of an old mattress, they found a hatchet. It was stained, but apparently had been recently wiped off.

Both Tullio and his wife were taken into custody. Mrs. Caponigro told the police Mikulich was 50 years old and had been employed as a track laborer in the Chicago Surface lines for about twenty years.

Tullio, who is said to have a newspaper at State and Washington streets, was killed Mikulich.

An analysis of the stains on the towel and hatchet will be made today by the coroner's chemist.

BIRD DOG FLIES OR RUNS CATFISH OUT TO LAKE CRIB

That's Keeper's Only Theory of Visitor.

"Wuff!" said the dog. "Wuff!" "Wuff!"

Joseph Brown, assistant keeper of the Sixty-eighth street crib, smiled sheepishly and said aloud:

"You know, I think this job is getting me. Just thought I heard a dog barking! Imagine that! A dog 'way out here in the water—two miles from shore—probably chasing a catfish."

"Wuff!" said the dog. "Wuff! Oooo-wuff!"

Brown sprang to the window, and there, sure enough, was the dog, standing on the breakwater—a dark brown bird dog.

"Bird dog," said Brown. "I didn't know bird dogs flew. How did you get out here?"

The Dialogue.

"Wuff!" answered the dog. "Float out on a piece of ice?" "Wuff, wuff!"

"Swim?"

"Wuff! Oooo-wuff!"

"Well, then, how the dickens did you get out here?"

But the dog wouldn't answer.

Brown took the creature in, fed him, petted him, and found a Detroit license tag, No. 5401.

"From Detroit?" he asked pleasantly.

The dog said something in his throat which Brown took for "Yes."

"But you didn't walk all the way from Detroit, old doggie, now, did you? Tell the truth."

The only answer was the sharp snapping of a nice thick bone.

"Well," said Brown, "you're welcome, anyhow. I'll keep you till somebody comes to claim you. Think you'll like it here?"

"Wuff!" said the dog. "Oooo-wuff!"

On Way to Detroit?

A telegram from Detroit stated that the dog was Brownie, the pride of W. W. Maynard, who moved to Chicago three weeks ago from 284 St. Paul street, Detroit.

Brownie, it appears, is neither fish nor fowl, but a dog that loves the water. Brownie has frequently crossed the Detroit river, and not by bridge, either.

The supposition is that Brownie got lost in the strange surroundings of the new home, saw the water, thought the lake was the Detroit river, and started for the other shore.

Takes Wife to Hospital;

She Vanishes in Mystery

Michael Chesson of 2535 West Division street yesterday asked the police to look for his wife. She was taken to St. Luke's hospital on Friday suffering from a nervous breakdown, he said, and when he went to visit her on Saturday she had disappeared. The hospital could tell him nothing about her, he said. He has been to all the other hospitals in the city, but has obtained no trace of her. She had no money. She was dressed in a blue serge suit, with a brown coat, and a black hat.

Oriental Rugs and the Tales They Tell

ORIENTAL rugs are more than mere fabrics of surpassing beauty. They are scrolls on which are writ the romances of races, the traditions of tribes. Perhaps the Shiraz rug on your floor was one of those borne many weary desert miles by its pilgrim weaver, who laid it as a sacred offering at the feet of the priests of Mohammed, who guard the great black stone within the Kaaba at Mecca. Woven into its goats' hair warp, probably, is long silky wool from the backs of lambs that gambled on the hills of Damascus.

TO the uninitiated, an Oriental rug is only a strangely figured covering for a floor. But to the dreamer of dreams—to the lover of beauty in the home—it is like a woven tale from the Arabian Nights and a source of endless satisfaction. The traditional hospitable welcome of the Far East awaits you at our display rooms whenever you may call.

THE RAILROAD BILL.

"I would be in favor of this bill if you would cut out all reference to the public," said Representative Garland in the debate upon the railroad bill. Mr. Garland is a union man representing a strongly labor district in Pennsylvania, and he supported his position with the declaration that "for forty years we (railroad labor and management) have settled our own differences. If you bring in a disinterested party there will be no settlements."

We quote this as a frank statement of the policy which governed the railroads for many years. Although endowed with the right of eminent domain and other attributes of sovereign or public right, the railroad managers, representing more or less, and in some unhappy instances less, the investors, thought of themselves as owners of private property. Labor at the same time reflected this view and thought of itself as free in any wholly private industry. Between these two free, private parties differences were settled, as Mr. Garland intimates, without interference of the "disinterested public."

But the theory of private right was brought to an end in regard to capital a generation ago, when the interstate commerce act was passed. Since then railroad earnings have been limited in the public interest by the legal representative of the public. The public function and responsibility of the railroads then began to be realized, but only partially. We did not treat a system of railroad control which should treat the whole problem of the railroads as a public service. Revenue was limited; that is, it came, but not outgo. The relation of railroad labor to the public was not recognized. The relation of fiscal policy and security issue to transportation efficiency and cost was not recognized. Our railroad problem was localized and partial. It shut one leak in the vessel and left all the others flowing.

The result of this has been a serious deterioration of railroad service and depreciation of legitimate investment. It has brought us at once to the brink of what we might call a strike of capital against railroad investment and a strike of railroad labor for larger returns and larger control. The bill which was passed by the house Saturday is the result of months of deliberation in the senate and house of representatives. Doubtless it is not a perfect measure. There never was one. If it were perfect it would be criticized by one side or the other. But the bill is a result of an earnest and protracted consideration of actual conditions and difficulties. It is an inductive bill founded on experience and expressing on the whole the ideas of right and public policy held by the vast majority of the American people. It is an attempt to conserve just existing rights and interests and yet meet our larger conception of the relation of the railroads and all concerned in transportation to the general welfare. It is an attempt to preserve the great benefits of private enterprise and yet protect public interest, and that is an attempt which every one who believes in Americanism and its ideals of individual freedom and progress ought to support.

In any such attempt it is necessary that representation of the public's interest in efficient and continuous transportation should be broadened so as to reach every phase of railroad activity materially affecting efficiency and continuous service. Therefore the bill introduces public control of financing and provides representation for the public in labor disputes.

As we have said, the measure doubtless is not perfect. Railroad labor is protesting strenuously, but its criticism does not seem to be constructive. We think it has an ulterior purpose and is intended to prevent rather than aid the establishment of a system of private ownership under public regulation. This is unfortunate, but it cannot be permitted to defeat what is in our opinion the preference of the great majority of the American people, for private ownership under public control rather than state socialism.

The vote in the house reflected this American opinion and also indicated the trend of party policy, Republicans providing the chief support for the bill, the Democrats the chief part of the opposition.

GETTING 'EM IN AND SHAKING 'EM OUT.

Those who periodically leave their shirts in Wall street or La Salle street are not all accessory before the fact. Some of them honestly believe there are just fortunes to be had. This belief is taking much hard cash out of the purses of those who can't afford it.

A Baltimore grand jury is investigating a loss of $1,500,000 in worthless stocks. This much we hear about. How many millions are thrown away that we hear nothing about? And thrown away by those who ought to be taken in hand and taught that easy money is received, not disbursed.

Extravagance is extending beyond the luxury shop. Persons who have been in moderate circumstances and now are making good wages seem to find small content in saving. The desire seems to be for inordinate returns. Those who plunge on 100 to 1 shots never reflect that ninety-nine must lose in order that one may flourish.

The one that flourishes becomes hated of the ninety-nine. He is the class—they the mass. If the ninety-nine would save their money there would be no single one to prosper at their expense. If an economic pinch should come those with savings shall be in comfort. Why gamble on a 100 to 1 shot on a tight future?

There are plenty of safe investments. There are plenty of government securities. There is no reason why persons of small savings should sweep these aside for promised high returns that never materialize.

Margins are dangerous. But outright purchases

THE STRANGE CASE OF SONNY DUNN.

If only we could call in Sherlock Holmes to unravel the Sonny Dunn mystery. Not to find out if he has committed crime, for it has been proved time and again that he has committed many crimes. But to find out why, having committed these crimes, he is not in the penitentiary.

AGAIN THE MORON.

An indexed moron, classified five years ago by the psychopathic laboratory, has confessed to murdering an old man. In spite of the scientific data forecasting danger to the public, this boy was thrown back into society.

As the work of the laboratory expands it justifies itself. It is able to furnish a perspective over a course of years. When crimes are committed the laboratory records are consulted. Too often there is found the record of a boy who has been known as the neighborhood half-wit.

The half-wit is harmless. He is so regarded by all normal persons. But he is harmless only until he commits some atrocity. He is potentially dangerous. His irrational wanderings take unexpected turns. Moral resistance is lacking. Impulse guides him. The thin line between good and evil breaks and the half-wit becomes a demon.

It may be said that our laws presume all persons safe and sane until they become violently insane. Our test of normality is murder or attempted crime. We imprison the violently insane, but omit to provide for those who are disposed to insanity. If we took half the care of half-wits that we take of lunatics we should prevent many murders and also derive some good from the guided efforts of those who need guidance.

We index the morons, but having no means of restraint we send them back upon the public. Old men, women, and children are their victims.

Parents of morons ought to be more pleased to see their children given scientific attention than to see them accused of violent crimes. The public certainly should be more content.

FRENCH MAIDS AND FRENCH WIVES.

Mrs. Ewald Sauer, the French bride of a former soldier, was so wrought upon by the high cost of living and what she termed "American extravagance" that she suffered nervous prostration. Her husband, an American accustomed to American ways, couldn't understand how such a little thing as extravagance could produce a mental storm of such magnitude. He had his wife examined by a lunacy board. Mrs. Sauer cried as she told how all the money her husband turns over to her each pay day "goes out as fast as it comes in." The examiners found her sane after she had said, "I can't afford to have my meat delivered in an automobile, and I won't."

It seems apparent that this French bride is determined to guard her husband's interests. Perhaps a million French girls would not all prove as thrifty. Many would not marry here, but some would. We would watch their attack on the high cost of living and American extravagance with considerable interest.

A group of such economical and temperamental brides as Mrs. Sauer would give a profiteering market man a chastening half hour when they appeared to do their morning's buying. "How much, ze cauliflower?" Marie would ask. "It is very fine; 50 cents," says the grocer. "Mon Dieu! and Marie swoons on the sawdust. "How much, zis soup joint?" Faddette demands. "Forty-five cents," says the salesman.

"Ma foi! and Faddette collapses across the prostrate form of Marie.

And so with the others, until the proprietor calls a couple of ambulances and his reputation goes screaming across the town.

We would hardly suggest such a method of reducing the cost of living. But one can never tell what the importation of a million thrifty French girls for domestic service might do to the American habit of extravagance—and to the profiteers.

BEWARE OF A NEAR BUDGET.

The most competent nation in the world wants competence at its head. There is rare irony in the contrast of American attitude for business with American slovenliness in national management. Yet the American head for business is at the bottom of the pork barrel system. The unit in congress is the congressman. His trading sense tells him to trade pork for votes. The fact that he is trading the roof over his head for a bauble on his job is of no consequence.

National efficiency is swamped for influence at home. A pork barrel congressman is like a grocery clerk who omits to charge a bill of goods to his best girl's mother so he may further his standing. Multiply this unit of pork grabbing by as many congressmen as jealously cling to their traditions and there is the reason why a budget is unpopular.

The budget should be adopted. But it should be a real budget and not merely something upon which cautious politicians may approach the next general election. There can be no benefit to the country if a dozen or more congressional committees continue to spend money in a different way. The national treasury piglet should be small enough so that it can easily be watched. A dozen spigots have proved too dangerous.

Editorial of the Day

THE EIGHT HOUR DAY AND THE FARM. [From the Peoria Journal-Examiner.]

The efforts of a considerable element in organized labor to persuade the American farmers to go on an eight hour day basis—or even a six hour day, as has been suggested by a few labor union men—are failing flat.

The man who has lived on a farm or who has worked on a farm realizes as no city dweller can realize, that farm work is an entirely different thing from factory work or ordinary trades. Machinery and equipment may some day be devised and perfected to permit a farmer to get all his work done between 8 a. m. and 5 p. m., with an hour off for noon, but this time is not to come for many years. The work on the farm is seasonal. Weather influences plowing and planting and harvesting. Farmers will work from sunup to sundown during the busy season, because to leave any lying in windows or unworked might mean the loss of a year's hay crop. Farmers will work from sunup to sundown during thrashing time for similar reasons. The eight hour day will never prevent rain from falling on a haystack and city working schedules will never protect the oats or wheat in the field when a storm threatens.

No character of work offers greater diversity than does farming. It is keeping steadily at one process of manual work that helps make the necessity for an eight hour day or better.

CIVIC SOCIETIES UNITE IN URGING BONDS FOR PARK

Club Leaders Make Final Appeal to Voters.

President of nearly every quasi-public organization in Chicago joined yesterday in a last minute statement urging voters in the South park district to vote for the bond issue tomorrow, which will be the last legal preliminary before the dirt begins to fly on the long awaited lake front improvement.

The statement says:

"Never before has all Chicago been united for a great public improvement as it now is for the lake front plans, but the privileged few who can vote for the bonds to commence work at once on the great scheme are only the south and the southwest sides.

"If everybody could vote tomorrow to reclaim the lake front for the people a smashing, record breaking vote would be recorded, authorizing the south park commissioners to begin to spend the money now to make Chicago's south shore lake front a great play and picnic ground, with healthful, protected bathing beaches every little ways, great expanses of protected walkways.

For All the People.

"At last the south shore lake front is to be used for all the people—at last the Illinois Central line is here; no more smoke, noise, and nuisance. In their stead there will be clean fresh air, grass, trees, quiet, comfort, happiness, and health.

"These are the benefits Chicago will get when the voters tomorrow approve the $20,000,000 of bonds, so the work can proceed at once.

"The Illinois Central will spend $30,000,000 on electrification and in starting its new station plans. This, and the lake front park work must proceed together.

"In three years Grant park and the new lake front parks to the south are expected to be finished. The great new stadium will be there, the Field museum will be accessible to the public."

Many Indorse Plan.

The statement follows with words of the Rev. Edward A. Kelley, the Chicago church federation, through Dr. Herbert L. Willett; the Rev. Fr. T. V. Shanley, the Chicago Association of Commerce, through President W. W. Baird; the Illinois Manufacturers' association, through President William Nelson Peck; the Standard club, through President Jacob Ringer; the Chicago Woman's club, through Mrs. E. S. PROTEST AGAINST FOREIGN TRADE BUDGET SLICING

Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—Protest against the action of the house appropriations committee in cutting the foreign trade estimates of the department of commerce from $1,658,000 to $490,000 was sent by the acting secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States to every member of the house.

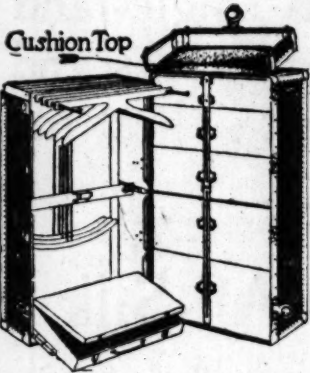

The effect of the passage of the appropriations bill as reported, Secretary Alexander has said, will be the elimination of the commercial attaché system and a curtailment of the services of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce.

"No more inopportune time for the curtailment of the services of commercial information could be found," the congressmen were told in the letter, which was signed by D. A. Skinner. Other countries are extending and enlarging their facilities for securing foreign trade, the letter asserts.

FIGHTER UNDER 2 FLAGS IN WAR SUED BY WIFE

Romance of School Days
Ends with Crash.

Howard Board, a salesman for the Patterson Motor Car company, who lives at 208 South Oak Park avenue, Oak Park, has been sued for a divorce on charges of non-support and desertion by Mrs. Madge Board, daughter of Edward Middleton, president of the Edward Middleton Contracting company, 101 West Washington street, it was learned yesterday.

Board is a former student at the Oak Park and River Forest Township High school and is prominent socially. It was during his school days that he met Miss Madge Middleton, and they were together at all the school entertainments and dancing parties.

Elope to Wheaton.

The war did not break up their friendship, for while Board was serving in the 149th field artillery letters were exchanged. He was given his discharge and returned home.

On June 8, 1917, they eloped to Wheaton and were married. Then Board was given an opportunity to join the royal flying corps and the proposition was placed before Mrs. Board. It was planned that she should live with her parents while her husband should again enter the service. She finally consented, and Board went to Canada.

Months passed. He was made a lieutenant and served with the grand fleet. It was while in the service that he met Vernon Castle and became a comrade of the dancer.

Promises "Real Story."

When discharged from the Canadian service he again returned home. Since that time, according to Mrs. Board's mother, he has deserted his wife and failed to support her.

All Board would say was, "I have been expecting the suit for some time. When my side is heard in court the newspapers will have the real story."

BODIES OF POLES BARRIER TO REDS, SAYS COMERFORD

Tells 4,000 U. S. Owes Nation a Debt.

Approximately 4,000 Poles gathered at Washington's birthday exercises at the Auditorium yesterday in the first of a series of mass meetings arranged by the Polish national committee to combat radicalism throughout the United States.

Attorney Frank Comerford declared that America has a debt to pay to Poland which dates back to '76—when Kosciuszko came to America and fought in Washington's army.

He said, while the audience cheered, that the debt is as large as the one America owed to France because of the services of Lafayette.

"It must be paid and paid now," Mr. Comerford continued. "That great wall of flesh on Poland's border which is holding back the Red forces of Russia is slowly dwindling because of lack of food and clothing."

Gives Poland Credit.

Mr. Comerford said that Poland is holding back the "torch" which may set the world afire with bolshevism.

While hundreds cheered his commendation of the soldiers of Poland, there were scores who booed his remarks on Socialism. Following this brief disturbance, he turned loose his verbal artillery for five minutes and silenced his annoyers.

Mr. Comerford, who recently returned from Poland and Russia, discussed the cause and cure of bolshevism and the perils that face the world if it is not inoculated against the Red germs.

He said that Trotsky's plea for peace with Poland was a subterfuge by which he planned to demobilize the Polish army and then march across the border.

Dr. Judson Presides.

The meeting was presided over by Harry Pratt Judson of the University of Chicago.

At the conclusion of the program, girls in costume passed through the audience and solicited subscriptions for the Polish cause. They were Rose Rendos, Felicia Slepceydzinski, Agnes Nerling, Priscilla Jankowski, Stefane Bauer, and Emily Sadowski.

A nation-wide celebration of Washington's birthday was conducted by American Legion posts in connection with the distribution of 100,000 French certificates to the next of kin of service men who died in the war.

PRESSMEN ARGUE, BUT POLICE FAIL TO FIND A RIOT

"Ooh! Awful, terrible, bloody riot at the Princess theater," cried a man into the telephone; and couple of patrol wagons started at once.

What happened? Nothing in the least exciting. The board of directors of the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' union was holding a meeting at the theater, and President George L. Berry was presiding.

He was explaining about some suits filed against him and an attack made on him by the "Industrialist," a printing industry publication. John Warring, secretary of the Allied Printing Trades council of St. Louis rose and said something. Berry told him he was interrupting and, it is said, asked him to leave. Henry Van Arson, organizer of Local No. 3, went to Warring's defense, and was also asked to leave. Then J. J. Kapp, secretary-treasurer of Local No. 3, asked all the members of the local to leave in protest, which they did—300 of them.

That was the riot. The 300 were standing in front of the theater when the police arrived. And they dispersed, yawning.

Sizes range from about 9x12 feet at $675, up to about 11x15 feet at $1250.

O'BRIEN BROTHER IN JAIL SWEARS HE'LL KILL DUNN

Declares Hoyne Will Never Hold "Sonny."

"I'll kill 'Sonny' Dunn, the sneak, the first time I see him," said the vengeance piece of the gallows—answered last night by his brother, William O'Brien, a inmate of the county jail with a second brother, Michael.

O'Brien, held on so many "jump" raps, that he had lost count of them himself, pressed his pale cheek against the sixth floor screening and stared the man his brother accused of murdering his father after he had taken the rap "for the slaying of Detective Sergeant Richard J. Burke."

Dunn State's Attorney.

"He was my pal 'Sonny' Dunn, and thought he was square," Bill confessed. "Now I'll get him sure the next time I'm on the street. I dare state's attorney Hoyne to send him in the air. He wouldn't live twenty-four hours here. Too many of the boys saw the inside of the case that my brother was hung on."

O'Brien told more of the "inside" of the slaying and threw more questions at State's Attorney Hoyne. "Why didn't you bring Mickey Kelly, the bartender in the saloon at thirty-seventh and Halsted, where Burke was shot, to testify at the trial? Was he afraid of what he could tell?"

"Why isn't 'Sonny' Dunn in here?" Burke's holding "Spot" Kelly, my brother's best friend, as an accessory to Burke's murder, simply because he was in the saloon? Why not 'Sonny' Dunn, who was there, too? Where does he get his drag? Hoyne is going to let him walk into the state's attorney's office, give bonds on two raps for auto stealing, and then walk out again."

Relates Charges.

"Sonny" Dunn shot Dick Burke, and everybody in the neighborhood knew it the next morning. I spoke to my brother the morning of the shooting and he told me 'Sonny' did the thing. He said:

"I fired the first shot and missed, and then 'Sonny' opened up and killed him."

"I was surprised when Jack didn't die on 'Sonny' when they pinched me. I asked him why. He told me that 'Sonny' had explained that 'Sonny' was going to fix the case so Jack would get off easy."

"We all thought 'Sonny' had a big bag with Hoyne and we knew that 'Sonny' had influence on the north side, so we figured that Jack would get off easy. We go a fine double cross, somebody's got to pay for it."

Michael Verifies Story.

Michael O'Brien, the other brother, was more reticent. He said that Jack told him he was "standing the rap" for "Sonny" Dunn weeks before the slaying.

Jack O'Brien's funeral will be held today at 2 p. m. from the Nativity church, thirty-seventh street and Lowe avenue, where the gallows victim was a choir boy for four years.

Among the scores of visitors at the O'Brien home was Father William Flaherty, who, with Father William Rapp, was the last to speak to the condemned man.

"I asked him what his message was to his brothers," said Father Flaherty. He said: "It is only two words—go right!"

Evanston Nurse Who Carried
Flaming Chemical from Hos-

MISS MABEL HAZEN.
[Toloff photo.]

3 NURSES RISK LIVES TO HALT HOSPITAL BLAST

Three young women upheld the reputation of nurses for bravery in a fire at the Evanston hospital yesterday.

Miss Mabel Hazen, 22 years old and pretty, was severely burned in running from the laboratory through a corridor seventy-five feet long and out of doors with a pan of disinfectant that had become ignited and threatened to cause a serious explosion.

Miss Inez McLaughlin, 24 years old, a nurse, and Miss Katherine Markoe, nurse, and switchboard operator, saved Miss Hazen's life by wrapping her in rugs as the flames from the burning chemicals enveloped her.

Miss Markoe, after assisting in this rescue, hurried to the switchboard to summon the fire department. She found the telephone cable had been burned and had to run a block to the fire alarm box.

Dr. William R. Parks attended Miss Hazen, whose condition last night was reported to be serious.

The fire department succeeded in putting out the blaze before it could eat its way into a storeroom containing a large quantity of ether.

Dr. F. H. Perry, superintendent of the hospital, praised the bravery of the nurses.

Miss Hazen risked her life without the slightest hesitation because she realized the danger of an explosion in the laboratory," he said. "They saved many lives, and we are all proud of the pluck these young women displayed."

'Revenue Men' Look Over Her House; $30 Vanishes

Two fake revenue collectors yesterday "looked over the house" and stole $30, according to the Hyde Park police by Mrs. Frances A. Dooley, who runs a rooming house at 4112 Drexel boulevard.

Jack O'Brien's funeral will be held today at 2 p. m. from the Nativity church, thirty-seventh street and Lowe avenue, where the gallows victim was a choir boy for four years.

Among the scores of visitors at the O'Brien home was Father William Flaherty, who, with Father William Rapp, was the last to speak to the condemned man.

"I asked him what his message was to his brothers," said Father Flaherty. He said: "It is only two words—go right!"

STARS OF POLICE HALT 2 BUDDING STARS OF FILMS

Jean Warfield, 12 years old, and Rose Mohlan, 12, both of Detroit, yearned to shine in the silent drama. They left Detroit on Saturday with a capital of $20 and came to Chicago, where they expected to sign up with a moving picture company.

To hide their youth they painted their slim forms and "did up" their hair.

Detectives Ralph Moore and Tim Daly of the East Chicago avenue station were standing at Ontario and Dearborn streets when our heroines breezed past last night. They gazed at the girls and then at each other. Then they grabbed the two movie stars.

Result—Jean and Rose are in Juvenile home, their hopes blasted, awaiting an answer to a telegram to their folks.

Burglars Get 50 Gallons of Alcohol at Hospital

CHILD BURNED AT PLAY.

YOUTH ATTACKS WOMAN AT DOOR OF HOME; ROBS

Saturday the Englewood police arrested a moron who confessed he had attacked, beaten and robbed a dozen or more women on the south side during the last month.

Later Saturday night Mrs. Edna Jacques, 2721 Winona street, reported she had been attacked and robbed by a young man just as she was about to enter her home.

"He grabbed me," she said, "and pressed a revolver to my side. He said he wanted my money, and told me to keep on walking ahead of him or he'd kill me."

He made me go into a private back of the Badlong school, California and Foster avenues, and there he threw me down and mistreated me. I screamed, but nobody heard me. I was there an hour—with him. I couldn't get away, and I was in deadly fear. He choked me, he struck me. And when he was leaving he took a diamond ring from my finger. It was worth $100."

WHITE SOX HEAR ANOTHER THREAT BY CHICK GANDIL

Comiskey Discounts Tale
He'll Play in Idaho.

MACKS IN CAMP TODAY

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—The 1920 baseball campaign is scheduled to start tomorrow at Lake Charles, La. Connie Mack, with a small band of recruits and his veteran catcher, Cy Perkins, will usher in the training of what is expected to be a record breaking season. Thursday the advance guard of the Brooklyn team gets under way for Jacksonville, the Robins being the first of the National Leaguers to start for camp.

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

Another threat by Chick Gandil to quit the White Sox floated into Chicago last night over the wires from Salt Lake City, where I. W. Smoot, president of the Snake River-Yellowstone league, gave out an announcement that Comiskey's first baseman had signed a contract to manage the St. Anthony, Idaho, club of that independent organization.

The threat looked like the real thing until Comiskey, the Sox boss, was reached by telephone and offered the following comment:

"Yes, I heard Chick had signed with those fellows. Maybe he has, but I think he'll be on first base for the Sox when the season opens. In fact, since the supposed signing took place I have had a couple of letters from him, the last one only a couple of days ago. That's an old trick of Chick's, that act of signing with some independent club."

Not Tied Up with Sox.

"Judging from his letters, I think he wants to come back to the Sox and will come back. It's true he hasn't signed with me yet, but we've been corresponding, and I think we'll get together on terms and he will be on hand to play."

Although Gandil is getting along in years and has slowed somewhat, he still is one of the best first basemen in the business, besides being a most effective and timely hitter, and his place would be hard to fill.

Manager Gleason will have Ted Jourlan on the training trip this spring, trying to beat Gandil out of the position. He was with the Sox in 1917, a utility man for the job, then served in the army, and last season played with Minneapolis, where he performed in such improved fashion that it looks like he's ready to hold a big league job.

Release Refused by Commy.

Early in the winter Gandil asked Comiskey for his release, saying he wanted to play on the coast, as he had chance to manage the Seattle club. Commy refused to grant the release. It might have been possible for Chick to have earned a pretty fair salary as manager of a Coast league team, but it is hardly likely his pay in the Snake River circuit would be sufficient to make him turn down a Sox contract.

President Johnson of the American league left last night for New York, where he will meet President Heydier of the National league either tonight or some time tomorrow.

Hennett won the championship of the western division of the Knights of Columbus minor baseball league by defeating Kepler, 6 to 0, at St. Alphonsus' gymnasium yesterday.

ROSS WINS ANOTHER RACE.

Racine and Jim Shea will meet in the Chicago league at the Ace room tonight.

QUESTIONS THEY ASK.

CHICAGO.—[To the Editor.]—1. In your column you stated that the season on black bass does not open in Wisconsin until July. 2. Didn't you make a mistake on this? 3. When does the bass season open in Michigan? 3. The trout season? R. R.

Answers—July 1 is right, except that the season opens June 15 on the Mississippi. 2. June 15 for both states and small mouthed. 3. May 1; license will be $3, instead of $5, this year.

Danville, Ill.—Last year I went bass fishing in a small river. I baited with minnows and had several strikes but could not land any. Once I hooked what I judged to be a four pound bass, but he jumped and got away. Please tell why I didn't get any. R. F. S.

Answers—Your trouble is a common one with beginners in bass fishing with live bait. You must keep in mind the fact that a bass seizes a minnow sideways or by the tail, runs with it, and turns it head first. Therefore, the bait fisher must not only bait but let the fish run for some distance; then he should carefully take in all slack, after which he should set the hook with a "wigwag" jerk.

Three Oaks, Mich.—[To the Editor.]—Frozen pike or pickerel have been on sale here. 1. Can you tell me when, where, and how these fish were caught? 2. If caught out of Lake Michigan would that have any effect on cutting down the number of pickerel and spoiling the fishing? J. K.

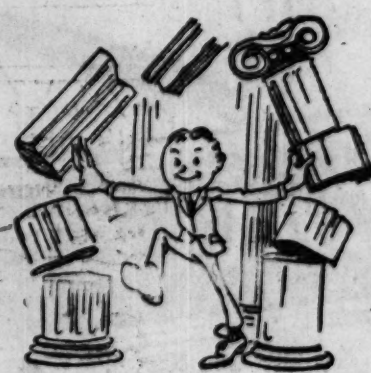

Answers—1. These are probably what the market call "winter bakes." Fishes like white fish, tullibees, minnows are taken with nets in the lakes of the far northwest, frozen on the spot, and shipped to market in refrigerator cars. Our so-called "pickers" and perch are often taken by hook and line through the ice; this fishing is quite an industry along the great lakes. No doubt it tends to cut down the supply of fish for the angler, but these fishes are very prolific, and in many regions the market fishermen can take them only in the winter.

Chicago.—[To the Editor.]—What are some good books on game fishes? W. V.

Answers—"American Food and Game Fishes," by Jordan and Evermann; "Game Fishes of the World," by Holder; "Bass, Pike, Perch, and Others," and "Book of the Black Bass," by Henshall.

HARGRAVE SIGNS WITH SAINTS.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 23.—"Bubbles" Hargrave, catcher with the local team last year, has signed to play with St. Paul again this year. Manager Mike Kelley announced today. "Bobby" Schauer, local semi-pro third baseman, also has been signed by the Saints.

IN the matter of women's suits, there are brought into especial prominence.

Suits at $75 Eleven Styles

Two of these suits are sketched at the right and left above. Fabrics afford a choice of serges, tricotines, Poirer twills, men's wear mixtures and hair-line stripes. Much emphasis is placed on the fine tailoring.

Braid, embroidery, every detail new to the season notable on these suits. Collar lines are especially smart.

The New in Suits and Frocks

In Certain Groups Moderately Priced

These days when women are preparing a list of springtime apparel needs, an announcement such as this, made early in the season, is certain to prove instantly interesting.

It brings word that here expenditures may be made to go far. It tells of the newly created in mode, distinctive to that degree dictated by good taste—at prices that mean real economy.

For the assortments especially featured at this time are thoroughly representative, not only of the new, but of the best in that new. Modes chosen from them are modes that are promised an enduring vogue. Women who appreciate the return in service and smartness that comes from early investment in fashions such as these will be certain, we believe, to make a special visit here at this time.

In the Misses' Sections, the New Modes in Suits, Coats and Frocks Are as Moderately Priced.

SIR OLIVER GIVES HEAVENLY CURE FOR BAD HABITS

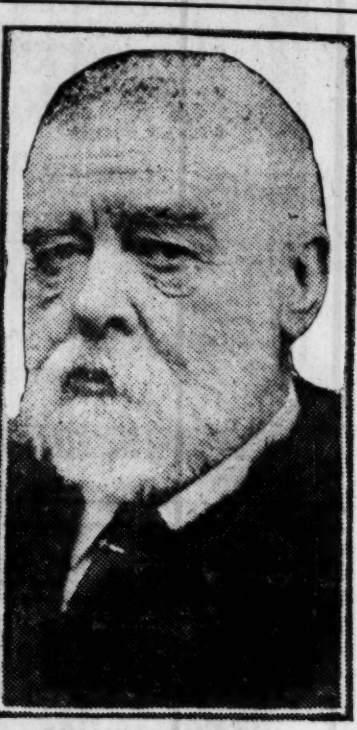

Here to Speak, Corrects
Celestial Cigar Idea.

In refutation of a previously published statement, Sir Oliver Lodge, who arrived in Chicago yesterday, now announces (merely as his opinion) that cigars are unobtainable in the hereafter. The celebrated British scientist is also pretty sure that there is no hell in heaven, prohibition having taken the place long before the eighth amendment.

Newcomers frequently ask for it, to be sure, but to the celestial Dairymilk he is loathe to let his eternal home be presented with a glass of something that looks like whisky, smells like whisky, and tastes like it, but after the stranger comes out of it he holds his right hand and says: "Never again." The potion leaves him with a distaste for alcohol that lasts an eon or two.

TOO MANY DUDS SPOILS WOMAN'S FIRE THRILLER

3 Held in Insurance
Plot; 2 Confess.

If Mrs. Janet Ziegler Kwiatkowski hadn't been fully clothed, she wouldn't have been arrested.

Mrs. Kwiatkowski was supposed to have been rescued and lowered down a rope from the second floor of a two-story frame house at 1840 Park avenue at 3 o'clock Thursday morning. The flames were bursting out below. The place was full of smoke.

The woman, two children, Orelia and Steve, had been snugly tied in bundles and lowered down first, then came the mother, then Edward Farrington, her brother, and then Charles A. Graham, late of the marines, who had been wounded at Chateau Thierry, and cited for bravery in action.

It Was Thrilling, but—

A thrilling, daring, nerve piece of work—but the keen old eyes of Battalion Chief Thomas Reynolds took note of Mrs. Kwiatkowski, and saw she had not been rescued, but was being lowered down completely, he knew, being an observant man, in less than an hour.

So the marine hero, Farrington, and the woman were arrested, and Mrs. Kwiatkowski used various names, and her brother sometimes posed as her husband. Sometimes I was her husband.

"Then she had Farrington get $5,000 insurance on the furniture in the first floor, and me $3,000 on that upstairs. When everything was ready we tied a couple of gas lamps to the basement ceiling, near the furnace, so the firemen would think the furnace got overheated; attached a gas hose to the lamps, fastened it on a jet, and let the lamps burn through the floor. When the fire was going good Farrington stuck his head out the window, yelled 'Fire!' and then we did our little rescue stunt."

Woman Claims Innocence.

Farrington confessed, too, when McCabe showed him exactly how the fire started. But the woman still maintains her innocence. She is at the detention home No. 1. Her children are in the juvenile home.

WAR OBJECTOR STIRS UP ROW IN SUNDAY SCHOOL

Clark W. Getts Scored by Evanstonians.

A pale, slim young man, who said proudly that during eighteen months of the war he was in jail as a conscientious objector, brushed up quite a row at the current events class in Evanston yesterday, involving Judge Orrin N. Carter of the Supreme Court of Illinois, Mrs. Catharine Waugh McCulloch, and others.

The unitary youth is Clark W. Getts of the American Freedom foundation, and he came before the class—which meets weekly in the First Congregational church—to urge his auditors to "rise and rebel against the government, assert their rights, and put an end to the rule of State's Attorney Hoynes and Secretary of War Baker."

"During the time I was in jail," he said, "I learned a lot about the Communist party and the condition of America that is ruled by the money trust."

Calls Baker Tyrannical.

He talked for an hour, praising the radicals, attacking the government because of the deportations of his heroes and heroines, saying the country had exchanged moral standards with Germany.

"Secretary Baker has established a rule over the conscientious objectors more tyrannical than anything Czar Nicholas ever perpetrated," was one of his best lines. And when he had finished his arraignment of things that didn't suit Clark H. Getts he sat down and smiled.

Carter Calls Him Impudent.

Judge Carter asked permission to speak. It was granted.

"This young fellow, who did not serve in the military forces when our country was in danger of losing its liberty, shows exceeding impudence to come before this gathering with such a despicable, outrageous, insulting attack on our government," the judge began.

"His explanations have not strengthened his argument for leniency with objectors one bit. It is just such type of warped mentality as this man has displayed that is so dangerous to our nation."

Defended by Mrs. McCulloch.

"He is a young man yet," said Mrs. McCulloch, a pioneer suffrage leader, and I am proud to see him come before us and express his views so frankly. He has a right to his own ideas, and because he is in the minority is no reason he should be condemned."

Getts was taken from the church by Mrs. McCulloch and her husband.

HUNTS DRIVER OF AUTOTRUCK THAT INJURED HUSBAND

Mrs. William T. Stephens of 3310 Wilson avenue called up The Tribune last night in an effort to locate the driver of the auto truck that ran down her husband at Racine avenue and Clark street Thursday morning.

"Mr. Stephens was waiting for a street car when this truck came along, loaded with crushed stone, and knocked him down," she said. "There was no policeman there. Some one carried him into a drug store, and after he had been given first aid he was brought home. The truck driver got away. My husband will have to go to the hospital, I guess. I think it's mighty strange nothing has been done by the police."

Racine avenue and Clark street meet in the Town Hall district. The police of that station have no report of the accident.

Alex J. Doncar, 4954 South Lincoln street, driver for the Yellow Cab company, is being held by North Robey street police pending an inquest into the death of Edward Hepper, 59 years old, a printer, who was killed yesterday by Doncar's car. The accident occurred in Montrose avenue, near Campbell.

Denchos Ruffol, 45 years old, 800 South Ashland avenue, was probably fatally injured when he was struck by a yellow taxi cab at Roosevelt road and Blue Island avenue.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

Every day the inquiring reporter asks five random strangers the question of the day. Today's question:

What is a fair increase in rent for landlords to charge flat dwellers?

E. F. POTTER, 5167 Washington boulevard—Taking a flat renting at $50 a month, for example, I think the landlord would be justified in raising the rent $5 a month.

P. W. WOODY, 1716 Bell Plaine avenue, hotel clerk—A raise of 16 to 20 per cent seems fair to me, as the landlord has to pay more for coal, janitor service, repairs, and taxes.

EDWARD J. IVORY, 403 South Ashland avenue, restaurant cashier—The only way a landlord can make a fair raise is to figure on making only 6 per cent on his investment after he has calculated the increase in his expenses.

W. B. ALLEN, 4760 Magnolia avenue, merchant—I don't see where the landlord is going to get off with less than a 10 per cent raise with the present cost of coal, janitor service, and repairs.

F. M. WERNER, 3956 Fullerton avenue, cigar clerk—No landlord is fair who raises his tenants' rent any more than the exact increase he has to meet.

AGED WATCHMAN FOUND SHOT DEAD IN A PAWNSHOP

Martin Lawson, 75 years old, a watchman employed by Myer Silverman, a pawnbroker at 547 South Clark street, was found shot to death in the place yesterday by Silverman.

He was shot twice, once through the left side, while another bullet creased his side. The South Clark street police say he committed suicide.

A revolver with three empty chambers was found beside the bed where the body lay. Silverman told the police all the doors were locked when he opened the store. When he saw the revolver on the chair he put it away, thinking Lawson was sleeping. He said some time later he found the aged watchman dead.

Capt. Patrick J. Lavin, with Detective Sergeants William Murphy and Garrett Coan, made an investigation. They announced that Lawson died at his chest the first time and missed, cut his side with the second bullet, and died at the third shot. No reason was obtained.

Woman Identifies Body of Canal Victim as Mate

The body of a man found floating in the Illinois and Michigan canal last evening was identified by Mrs. Catherine Carroll, 1548 South Turner avenue, as that of her husband, Stephen J. Carroll, a switchman, who has been missing since Feb. 17.

The coroner's physician who examined the body found traces of wood alcohol, which leads to the belief Carroll may have fallen in the canal.

He was last seen walking with W. C. Bain, 4634 Jackson boulevard, with whom he had been playing cards in Dooley's saloon at Twenty-second street and Ashland avenue.

A watch Carroll carried was missing from his body, but $12 was found on it.

PASTOR NAMES THREE SUSPECTS AS HOLDUP MEN

When three armed bandits held up the Rev. Frank C. Bruner, pastor of the Chandler Methodist Episcopal church, on Jan. 12 and robbed him of an emerald pin and $25, he studied their faces and gave the police a good description of the robbers.

Last night at the detective bureau he identified three suspects taken in by Detective Sergeants McCarthy, McFadden, McCue, and Christello.

The suspects gave the names of Joseph Main, 24 years old, 2804 South Union avenue, laborer; Edward Fiddell, 22 years old, 2508 West Thirty-eighth street, and Thomas Hamilton, 24 years old, 2942 South Union avenue, coal men. They are being held.

"LONG LIVE OUR LANDLORD," CRY MILLER TENANTS

A Shining Example of "The Other Side."

A good tenant is one of the noblest works of God. H. E. MILLER.

Tenants of Henry E. Miller will tell it to the world that all landlords are not profiteers. Mr. Miller is owner of the Greenwood apartments, 4720-28 Greenwood avenue, and the Miller apartments, 5133-43 Greenwood avenue. There are twenty-one flats in each building.

While some landlords are demagogues and are increasing a real increase of from 50 to 100 per cent, Mr. Miller is satisfied with an increase of from 12 to 15 per cent. In his opinion any raise that exceeds 25 per cent smacks of profiteering.

Provides for Increased Costs.

"Owners of flat buildings are entitled to an increase in rent to meet the increased cost of maintenance," said Mr. Miller, "but they should not exact the pound of flesh from the tenant. Just because you have a tenant at your mercy is no reason why you should raise his rent out of all proportion. A good tenant is one of the noblest works of God."

"Thousands of renters are panic-stricken at the condition that exists and are submitting to—what I call it—extortion. Rents are high—too high, but with the prices a landlord must pay for coal, janitor's services, cleaning and decorating and increased taxes, he must necessarily raise on the rent."

"But the tenant, if he is a good one, is entitled to some consideration. I have not forgotten that I was once a tenant myself."

"Many landlords are making a big mistake by boosting the rent out of proportion to the increased cost of the upkeep. As a result they will lose old tenants who always paid their rent promptly and new ones will move in who probably will not be so particular about plunking down the rent on the first of the month."

Tenants Are Appreciative.

Mr. Miller resides at 6746 Bennett avenue. He is president of the Chicago Wheel and Manufacturing company, 1101 West Monroe street.

Several of Mr. Miller's tenants have written him that they appreciate the consideration shown them. Further testimony of their appreciation was given yesterday when a dozen tenants called upon Mr. Miller at his home to congratulate him on his birthday. They brought presents of cigars and cravats.

The case of Hendricks and Lukon, real estate dealers accused of taking a $60 bonus from tenants in exchange for new leases will be taken up by Mayor Thompson and the Chicago real estate board today.

According to Morton S. Cressy, assistant corporation counsel, assigned to the rent committee of the city council, the action of the real estate firm is basis for court action.

"KEELEY CURE" CLIMBS HEARSE OF BARLEYCORN

U. S. Buys Dwight Plant for Army Hospital.

Into the twilight of the kings—Alcohol, J. Barleycorn, et cetera—there is soon to pass a unique American institution, for almost a half century the Æsculapian fame of the cult Bacchus, the therapeutic temple toward which all third rails led—at least for thousands of men and women.

The Keeley institute, established at Dwight in 1879 by Dr. Leslie E. Keeley, has found it has outlived its utility because of prohibition, and negotiations are now under way with the war department to convert the extensive establishment, built in 1885 at a cost of $500,000, into a hospital for convalescent soldiers.

Has Treated 10,000,000 Patients.

Dr. J. H. Oughton, head of the institute since 1900, when Dr. Keeley died, left yesterday for Washington to close the deal. The war department proposes, it is understood, to lease the property for ninety-nine years. The terms were not disclosed. Besides the hospital building, or Livingstone hotel, which has a capacity of 500 beds, there is a large laboratory, from which in days of yore the institute supplied remedies for its forty-eight auxiliary institutions in the various states and to Canada and London. The auxiliaries were in most cases independent concerns which were permitted to use the name Keeley in return for royalties.

Since prohibition became effective, even as far back as the more or less farcical wartime measure, the once prosperous business at Dwight has depreciated until now it is almost negligible. In the heyday the volume of new patients averaged from eighty to 100 a month. Including its auxiliaries, the Keeley institute has treated more than 10,000,000 patients. Of these Chicago supplied approximately 50,000.

The Stewards of Yesterday?

What has become of the stewards of yesterday? nobody knows. But the Keeley institute, in closing its doors, is following the example of smaller drink cure institutions. Chief of these were the Washingtonians, who went out of business Jan. 1, after functioning since 1883, and the Pine sanitarium, another Chicago institution, which closed shop early in 1919.

The history of Keeley is closely linked with that of Illinois. A surgeon with the Union troops during the civil war, he was called upon to treat so many cases of alcoholism that he determined to spend the rest of his life, termed the "disease of inebriety." Soon after the war he perfected his remedy and treatment and located at Dwight, then a village of 200.

Announcement of the first scientific drink cure in the United States caused Dwight to become a mecca for inebriates from every state in the Union. It resembled a Khondyko rite. A thousand patients with their relatives and friends arrived there almost overnight. Dwight enjoyed a boom that boosted its population over the 3,000 mark.

Investigated by Joseph Medill.

The late Joseph Medill, founder of The Tribune, helped the institute materially as a result of a personal investigation made by him as to Keeley's claims, in 1891. He wrote in The Tribune:

"I selected half a dozen of the toughest products of alcoholism which the Chicago saloons had been able to turn out; and the drunkard making shops in new buildings, in what was in their line of work. The experimental cases were sent down to Dwight one at a time. . . . and in due time they were all returned to me, looking as a sober man, a miracle had been wrought upon them."

"But I did not stop with the half dozen especially selected cases, but sent down to Dwight's number of inebriates acquainted with me, who were anxious to reclaim those old friends who had been respectable and useful citizens before the drink habit ruined their lives. . . . duty which I owed to humanity to make known the virtues of the Keeley cure as fast and as far as in my power lay, and I rejoice that the control of a widely read journal enabled me to reach the multitude of intelligent people."

Dr. Charles L. Hamilton, speaking in Dr. Oughton's absence last night, said the institute would move into "smaller quarters," but he did not know where.

GAS EXPLOSION HURLS WORKMEN AGAINST WALL

Two men miraculously escaped death yesterday when they were hurled more than fifteen feet by the force of a gas explosion in the basement of the Continental Can company, Twenty-second and Halsted streets.

The men are Edwards Evans, 5604 South Union avenue, and Fred Schwab, 7129 South Michigan avenue, steamfitters. They were burned about the face and body and were taken to the county hospital. They went to their homes later.

Evans and Schwab were doing repair work in the basement of the factory. They struck a match and the explosion followed. The men were hurled against a wall. Windows in the basement and on the first and second floors were broken. Part of the machinery was torn from its foundation.

Girl Robbed of Purse
and Watch in Park

Daylight robbers stopped Miss Maud E. Lynch, 4618 Ferdinand street, yesterday in Holden park and took her purse containing $8 and a watch.

Seize 150 as Gamblers in Raids Upon Clubs

Raids on clubs where, it is alleged, white and colored gamblers play netted 150 persons yesterday. Among the places raided were the Premier club, 330 East Thirty-fifth street; the Blue Jay club, 215 East Thirty-fifth street; the Lester club, 3415 South State street, and a place at 826 East Thirty-ninth street.

Littler's Flat Building Catches Fire; Tenants Flee

Tenants, including women and children, made hasty exits from beds to the street soon after midnight last night when a six-story apartment building at 459 Prairie avenue, owned by Ald. Harry E. Littler, caught fire. A defective flue was given as the cause. The fire was extinguished with slight loss.

FLU TAKES SLIGHT SPURT.

Sixty-three new cases of influenza were reported by the health department for the twenty-four hours ending on Sunday morning. Seventeen new cases of pneumonia, with eleven deaths were reported. There were no deaths from the influenza.

MARKET SHOWS
APPROVAL OF
RAILROAD BILL

The New York Times.

New York, Feb. 23.—[Special.]—In the market for railroad stocks and bonds last week was supplied evidence that the public acquired a measure of confidence from the railroad bill. The bill, as it went from conference to the floor, was well received. The bill, as it went from conference to the floor, was well received. The bill, as it went from conference to the floor, was well received.

Question of Values.
The general thought of establishing a new structure which will return for years at least 5 per cent and probably a per cent on the aggregate value of the securities throughout the country. The problem whether "book value" or "market value" is the basis for the new structure is a question of values. The bill, as it went from conference to the floor, was well received.

But the fact which the financial community laid stress upon after the measure became law was that at last definite machinery had been shaped for the work of valuing the securities. The bill, as it went from conference to the floor, was well received.

Now rail stocks touched their minimum levels of the year early this month, a significant fact which extends from 10 to 15 points in respect to a part of this year developed after the bill was sent out of the conference committee, an indication that the bill was well received.

The credit situation has lost none of its serious aspect despite the stability of call money at 4 per cent for a week and eight days of continued collateral loans. In New York there has been heavy liquidation of stock market loans in the last seven weeks, but the credit situation has lost none of its serious aspect.

Government deposits in the seven weeks have been drawn down $285,000,000 and demand deposits have fallen about $132,000,000, the latter change evidently due to a movement of funds from local institutions into the federal government.

With deposits heavily eaten into from these sources, the banks have apparently moved to rediscount liberally their commercial and mercantile bills at the reserve banks, which accounts in part for the poor showing made by the latter in the last several weekly statements. Losing gold to the extent of many millions per week through the movement to South America and being called upon to increase its discounts and bill purchases, it is not surprising that the reserve bank has recorded a falling balance of deposits to deposit and note liability.

Rates May Increase.
The process has application to the entire system and with the system's reserve of 40 per cent cash against notes and deposits being closely approached in the downward movement, there seems to be a strong basis for expectation of further increases in federal reserve discount rates in the near future.

Wilson and Co. PENSION FUND

GRAIN BUYERS MORE CAUTIOUS AS PRICES DIP

BY CHARLES D. MICHAELS.

All grain exchanges will be closed today.

The trend in values in grain, provisions and commodities generally is more in buyers' favor than at any time within five years. The enthusiasm that marked the bull speculation up to a month or so ago has largely subsided, and the disposition is to look for depressing rather than inflating factors. It is easier to discover reasons why things should work somewhat lower than it is for those who expect upward trend. Taking a conservative view of the grain situation the disposition is to work on the short side on the short side.

One thing that stands out strongly in the definition of wheat values and the help millers out of their large holdings of wheat and flour by purchases of wheat beginning March 2. Another factor is the permission of millers who have a surplus of wheat to sell it to other millers.

Wheat Supplies Larger. Supplies of flour and wheat in the United States are unusually large and the indications are for a carry over of 150,000,000 to 200,000,000 bushels by wheat July 1. Loaded with flour, and millers are suppliers of wheat, and are steadily drawing down to a new crop.

Liquidation of the part of the grain corporation is underway, and there is increasing evidence that it has been unable to place as much flour and wheat as was expected, so that more dependence must be given the domestic situation.

Farmers Slow Sellers. In the corn market there are two sides. Farmers are showing little disposition to sell and the speculators are selling the corn for the producer in expectation of getting the latter to ship it in later. Every few days the market becomes overvalued. Movement from the country is expected to be of fair volume this week, but light afterwards. Country roads are breaking up and farmers' deliveries are expected to decrease within a few weeks.

February corn closed Saturday at $1.19, 1/2c for the week. March, $1.19, 1/2c for the week. May, $1.19, 1/2c for the week. July, $1.19, 1/2c for the week. September, $1.19, 1/2c for the week. November, $1.19, 1/2c for the week. December, $1.19, 1/2c for the week. Light stocks of corn in the visible supply make the market many friends, but they are not giving it enthusiastic support, and only a little buying is being done. The disposition is to depress the price.

The trade is looking for the government report of wheat, corn and oats. East of the river demand is expected to pick up with the reopening of the railroads and the renewal of the issue of permits. May oats closed Saturday at 78 1/2c, off 1/2c, with July, off 1/2c. Prices for the week follow:

Lard prices are the lowest of the season, with May $20.75 at one time Saturday, and cash lard $1.00 under May at the highest on record, made in June last.

The make of lard is heavy. Stocks pile up rapidly, and the export demand for the present is over from all appearances. During the war 60 per cent of the output of lard was for export. Now the carriers are buying the cash lard and the hedging it for May.

Domestic trade in lard is fair, and in dry salted meats has picked up slightly. It is not so heavy. Hog supplies are liberal and prices have dropped so much around $12.25 to $14.35.

Pork closed Saturday at a loss of 7c, lard 60 1/2c, and short ribs 22 1/2c to 24 1/2c, as compared with a week ago. Prices for the week follow:

WANT U.S. FLOUR
SOLD ON CREDIT TO FEED HUNGRY

New York, Feb. 22.—The United States government is urged to permit the sale of flour on credit to 10,000,000 barrels of flour now held by the grain corporation to feed the millions of starving men, women, and children in the cities of Poland, Austria, Hungary, Rumania, and Armenia, in an appeal here tonight by the American relief administration.

Thousands must slowly starve, the appeal added, if America, the allies, and neutrals continue to withhold their surplus food supplies.

The appeal, which calls upon the ones to congress of their desire to do for Herbert Hoover, John Willis Bar, Livestock, Charles Gibbons, Hughes, Presidents Hadley of Yale, Leland Stanford, and Wilbur of North, and Alfred E. Marling.

The United States has a remaining 10,000,000 barrels of flour which it is not sold abroad for cash, the appeal stated, adding that the profits from the sale of export wheat already amounted to $40,000,000.

NEW YORK WEEKLY CURB INDUSTRY CALLS FOR MORE COIN; STOCKS LAGGING

BY MANFRED EMANUEL.
(Copyright 1920 by The Tribune Company.)

LONDON, Feb. 22.—The anticipated revival of activity in the London stock exchange has not materialized. Business opened for the week in brisk fashion, but fell away leaving the markets irregular. The chief reasons were the present inertia, fears of higher money rates and of new taxation in the coming budget.

The industrial demand for money is so great that a period of stringency is more than probable. The success point in new issues during the money, which however, is not yet flowing to the stock exchange.

Banks Showing Caution. Banks are exercising increasing vigilance over advances and are not so ready to supply the speculative markets. The chief reason is the higher money rates. The banks are not so ready to supply the speculative markets.

Prices are higher than last week, but the movement was sharp. The chief reason is the higher money rates. The banks are not so ready to supply the speculative markets.

Rubber shares, which have been the week's leading feature, are now being held by the market. The chief reason is the higher money rates. The banks are not so ready to supply the speculative markets.

MARSHALL FIELD & COMPANY

Tribute to GEORGE WASHINGTON
by John Adams

"I HAVE seen him in the days of adversity, in some of the scenes of the deepest and most trying perplexities; I have also attended him in the highest elevation and most prosperous felicity with uniform admiration of his wisdom, moderation and constancy. . . .

"For himself, he had lived long enough, to life and glory. For his fellow citizens, if their prayers could have been answered, he would have been immortal.

"His example is now complete and will preach wisdom and virtue to Magistrates, Citizens and men, not only in the present age, but in future generations, as long as our history shall be read."

United States, December 22, 1799.

No School Today—Come to the Store

Oberndorfer, Blue Room, Fifth Floor; at 11:30—Demonstration by Girl Scouts, Miss Howel, District Director, and Mrs. Lindsay will be present, Fourth Floor; at 2:30 and at 3:30—Stories of Our Country, by Miss Georgene Faulkner, the Story Lady, who will dress as Mrs. Washington.

Candy-striped Silks Make
New Vestees

It is surely safe to predict an immediate demand for these beautifully tailored, tub silk Vestees of fine quality. They are so made that they can be worn with Eton frocks or suits, having part of the silk to show below the short jackets at the back.

One of about one dozen styles is illustrated above, with little pocket in its front panel, a crisp black moire tie, and youthful roll collar. $17.50.

Others are of pink and black, blue and black, silk green, French blue, lavender and purple, tan and blue stripes, variously made, with and without peplum fronts, pockets, double breasted closings and fancy pearl buttons. Prices: $16.50 to $22.50.

Womenswear, First Floor, Middle, State.

Silver and Foxes
A Notable Display

OF LATE YEARS especially it has not been possible to assemble so unusual a number of these very valuable skins. Most beautiful of their kind, they are of exquisite quality and form a peerless collection.

The Blue Foxes are from Greenland and Labrador; the Silver Foxes from Prince Edward Island.

Sixth Floor, Wabash.

Frocks

Spring calls for brilliant notes of color and is answered effectively by a Frock of tricotette with bright-colored novelty floss braid in an attractive pattern around the neck and sleeves, draped blouse and down both sides of the skirt. The colors are navy, black and brown. $69.50.

Declaring anew for the charm of simplicity of line is this one-piece Frock of navy tricotette, embroidered with diamonds of black silk floss and fine gold thread. This may be had in fine gold thread. Black, too, $49.50.

Womens' Costumes, Sixth Floor, South, State.

Suits

"Trimness above all things for Spring, after a Winter of heavy coats and far-trimmed suits"—this from a Suit of navy tricotette, bound all about with black silk braid. The narrow girdle and double pockets are also braid-bound. Notice how the front fastens with buttons slipping through the piped buttonholes. $60.

The open country and wind-swept skies call through a Suit of light-colored mixed tweed, with apocynus pockets, and tiniest plaits and embroidered arrow heads at back. $55.

Womens' Suits, Sixth Floor, South, State.
